The Global Clean Energy Race

Competing in Asia's Renewable Energy Marketplace

Featured Speakers: AREVA, Sun Edison, Constellation Energy and NRG/Bluewater Wind executives will engage in roundtable discussions on U.S. energy competitiveness, emerging technologies and global energy opportunities in Asia. Experts in business development and finance will wrap up the event to discuss where the money is and how to win renewable energy business in Asia. Don't miss this one of a kind event on September 15, 2010 in Baltimore!

In cooperation with

What's at Stake: As President Obama declared in the State of the Union, "the nation that leads the clean-energy economy will be the nation that leads the global economy." The U.S. has fallen dangerously behind.

China's overall stimulus funding allocated to clean technologies is 4 times that of the U.S. ($221 billion vs. $60 billion). Trillions of dollars are on the table in clean tech industries and the winners will be determined by decisions in the next five years.
